Reasons for Allowance

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
 - a. Claims 1 – 11 are allowable over the Prior Art of Record because it fails to teach or suggest a method for wireless transmission of a control command from a transmission element to a measuring probe with electromagnetic signals, the control command including at least one bit sequence, the bit sequence including high bits and at least one low bit, comprising the step generating the high bits in accordance with an enveloping curve of a plurality of electromagnetic signals recurring with a carrier frequency; and transmitting one low bit between two high bits within one bit sequence in combination with the remaining limitations of the claims.
 - b. Claim 12 is allowable over the Prior Art of Record because it fails to teach or suggest a device for wireless transmission of a control command from a transmission element to a measuring probe with electromagnetic signals, the control command including at least one bit sequence, the bit sequence including high bits and at least one low bit, comprising an arrangement configured to generate the high bits in accordance with an enveloping curve of a plurality of electromagnetic signals recurring with a carrier frequency; and an arrangement configured to transmit one low bit between two high bits within one bit sequence in combination with the remaining limitations of the claims.

c. Claim 13 is allowable over the Prior Art of Record because it fails to teach or suggest a device for wireless transmission of a control command from a transmission element to a measuring probe with electromagnetic signals, the control command including at least one bit sequence, the bit sequence including high bits and at least one low bit, comprising means for generating the high bits in accordance with an enveloping curve of a plurality of electromagnetic signals recurring with a carrier frequency; and means for transmitting one low bit between two high bits within one bit sequence in combination with the remaining limitations of the claims.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
